

POEM

DISCOVERING OUR OWN DIVINITY

DR. R. MANJULA
JNTUA College of Engineering
Anantapuramu, India

DISCOVERING OUR OWN DIVINITY

You are my master I am only servant

You are the creator

I am merely creature

You are the player of my life

I am merely puppet in your hands

You are the writer of my destiny

I am merely actor on your stage. You only know when the play ends o my Lord

You the ruler of sun and moon

Dictator of life and death

If darkness or light It is your gift

If win or loss you are the judge

If life or death it is your choice

Curse me or bless me my faith is unshaken

Sink me or float me I am happy as you are by my side o my Lord

It is not heaven and earth

I enjoy your presence in every nature

I feel your glimpse when it dawns

I feel your touch when it rains

I feel your strength when it blows

I feel your smile when it blossoms

I feel your call when it tweets

I feel your anger when it roars

I feel your grace when it smiles

I feel your bliss in all the seasons O my Lord

It is not in Mosque and Mandir

Nor in singing and chanting

I sense your miracle in every creation

I see your presence in every human being singing the song of humanity O my Lord.